

Law signed regulating election funds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon signed today a new federal law aimed at regulating the raising and spending of election funds for presidential and congressional candidates in the high cost era of television campaigning.

Nixon called the bill realistic and enforceable. The new measure, effective in 60 days, becomes the first reform in campaign spending in nearly half a century, replacing the outmoded and toothless 1925 Corrupt Practices Act.

It placed a ceiling on the amount that may be spent this year on behalf of presidential candidates, including primaries where affected.

It also requires stiffer, periodic financial reports, and brings under control the myriad political fund-raising committees which in the past were able to circumvent spending restrictions.

Under a formula allowing roughly 10 cents a voter, each party will be permitted to spend up to $13.9 million on plugging their 1972 presidential nominees, but only about $8.4 million may be used for television and radio messages.

This compares with the $12.6 million spent by the Republicans in the 1968 Nixon campaign and the $6.1 million used by the Democrats in Hubert H. Humphrey's losing effort four years ago.

In signing the bill Nixon said it was "an important step forward in an area which has been of great public concern."

He added, "Because I share that concern, I am pleased to give my approval to this bill."

Nixon, who waited until the deadline to sign the legislation, said in a statement that it "will guard against campaign abuses and will work to build public confidence in the integrity in the electoral process."

Some question arose about enforcement of the law although Nixon insisted it would be enforced.

A Justice Department section which had responsibility for violations of the corrupt Practices Act was disbanded last August and its duties split between two other sections.

A new unit, which has no formal name yet, is operating under the direction of Walter Barnes in the fraud section. The previous unit was broken up after its director, William S. Sessions, quit to become U. S. attorney in San Antonio, Tex.

Ray Gahn, one of two attorneys who helped Barnes on a part-time basis, plans to leave soon to join Sessions' staff.

New tax idea could cut property taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If it decides to propose a "value-added tax," the administration hopes it will be able to raise $18 billion each year and cut homeowners' property taxes in half.

Those details of White House thinking were revealed in documents handed out to members of the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, one of two groups asked by President Nixon to study new ways of school financing.

The documents, obtained by UPI, indicate that Nixon hopes to accomplish two things:

—Slash all residential property taxes about in half by eliminating that part of local property taxes which now pays for operating elementary and secondary schools.

—Encourage all states to "assume virtually all responsibility" for the public schools, with help of money coming in from the value added tax instead of from property taxes.

Nixon has never talked directly of using a value-added tax—a form of national sales tax—to finance schools, but it became known that it was under consideration when he asked for a study of it.

The tax would bring in revenue at each stage of a product's manufacture, to reflect value added to the product at that step. It could, for instance, be paid at every step from the mine to the factory to the wholesale house, eventually by the retailer and ultimately by the consumer.

Levies such as sales taxes are considered regressive because they hit every consumer equally, rich and poor alike. The tax is exacted not on the basis of what the consumer earns, but on what he spends—and the poor thus are hit more heavily in proportion to the rich.

Manpower training program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon resubmitted to Congress today a $2 billion manpower training program, saying it would cut unemployment and increase productivity of American workers.

Essentially unchanged from a plan first sent up to Capitol Hill last March it would provide that $1.7 billion be divided among states, cities and counties on a formula based on the size of their labor force and the numbers of unemployed and disadvantaged. The other $300 million would be retained by the Labor Department for national training programs.

Nixon noted that the steady increase in productivity—the output per American worker—which averaged 3.4 per cent a year in the late 1950s and early 1960s had declined to an average of only 1.8 per cent by the end of the last decade.

The nation needs better trained workers to restore its productivity growth and make American goods more competitive with products of nations that have a lower paid but less efficient work force, the President told the House and Senate.

Nixon peace plan dead

PARIS (UPI)—Delegations from North Vietnam, the Viet Cong, the Pathet Lao and the Cambodian rebel movement flew into Paris today to demand peace in Indochina on their own terms. They said President Nixon's latest peace plan was dead.

The four Communist Indochina delegations flew in from Moscow on a Soviet plane to take part in a three-day, Communist-backed international antiwar assembly in Paris later this week. Spokesmen said they would not consider any portion of President Nixon's Jan. 25 peace package.

Hoang Quoc Viet, the North Vietnamese Minister in charge of relations with Parliament, said he and the other delegations were ready to denounce the Nixon plan at the meeting and said, "This meeting will be a great encouragement for our struggle against U.S. aggression."

"The U.S. attitude is still obstinate—and it clearly appears in President Nixon's so-called peace plan which all peace-loving peoples have rejected," Viet said.

The Hanoi minister said South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu's resignation would not be sufficient to lead to direct talks with Saigon and he insisted that the South Vietnamese police system be dismantled.

Diet pill ban considered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Food and Drug Commissioner Charles C. Edwards hinted strongly today the government may be on the verge of banning widely popular diet pills as dangerous and virtually worthless.

"We're not sure any of these drugs are any good at treating obesity," Edwards said.

"Our approach may be to label the drug for short-term use in obesity only for those patients who do not respond to other treatment, and who do respond to this form of treatment during a short-term trial."

Edwards said the Food and Drug

Administration is conducting a review of amphetamines that should be completed and made public "within a couple of months" and certainly by no later than July 1.

Edwards testified before a Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee at a hearing on amphetamine stimulant drugs, which are widely used in weight control.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said there was evidence that amphetamines—commonly known as "speed"—are widely abused, partly because huge quantities of the prescription-only pill are being diverted illegally.

Nixon strike plan rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional subcommittee rejected today President Nixon's emergency plan to force an immediate end to the West Coast dock strike, voting instead to permit him to ask for a 60-day injunction to require strikers to load certain cargo.

The House Labor panel voted 5 to 3 on party lines against Nixon's proposal to order the striking International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union members back to work while a three member arbitration panel would dictate settlement terms within 40 days.

Instead the group approved legislation to empower him to obtain a 60-day back-to-work court order during which the longshoremen would be required to handle agricultural and military cargoes, intended for Hawaii.

The stop gap measure that was approved on a 5-1 party line vote must now go before the parent House Education and Labor Committee for action, possibly by Tuesday.

The bill was drafted by Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., who was subcommittee chairman. Two Republicans, Reps. John Ashbrook of Ohio and Ogden Reid of New York voted present on the proposal while Rep. John Dellenback R-Ore., cast the lone opposition vote.

While visiting the West Coast during the weekend, a leading senator involved in considering legislation predicted that the 121-day old strike would end within the next week to 10 days, but possibly not before government intervention.

Thompson said his bill "would permit continuance of a partial strike but avoid compulsory arbitration which many of us oppose."

Dellenback said the Thompson bill "is truly cosmetic—it fails to resolve the basic issues of the strike."

Thompson said the measure was flexible, permitting the government to ask the courts to include additional products for loading which are not covered in the resolution.

Thompson said that Harry Bridges, ILWU president, was opposed to his plan because "he wants nothing."

"He wants to continue with negotiations, but I think the impact of my measure would be to bring about an early settlement."

Thompson said he had talked with Bridges by telephone a half an hour before the subcommittee met and that Bridges told him that negotiations on economic matters might be resolved by Wednesday.

Thompson also said the question of retroactivity was still unresolved but Bridges indicated to him that this and any unresolved noneconomic issues could be submitted to voluntary binding arbitration while the strikers went back to work—possibly by Thursday or Friday.

RON KARSTE, left, Bank of America official, presents a plaque to Randall Reiff, the Jaycees newly crowned Outstanding Young Farmer, for 1971-72, in ceremonies climaxed the annual statewide convention in Lompoc. Bank of America is the state sponsor for the prestigious Jaycee event.

Jaycees name Woodland man top farmer

Randall Reiff, 34-year-old farmer from Woodland reigns today as the California Jaycee Outstanding Young Farmer for 1971 and will represent the state in competition for the national title in March.

Reiff's name was announced by Ron Karste, Bank of America official Saturday night during a banquet climaxed a one-day state Jaycee convention in Lompoc. There were 10 finalists in all, nominated by as many Jaycee chapters. Runnersup were Victor Martinez, Kerman; Robert Seifert, Acampo; Donald Valpredo, Bakersfield and Richard Vaughn, Waterford.

Judges were C.R. Henning, Lompoc rancher; Lynn Maxwell, farm adviser; Frank Fox, instructor at Cal Poly.

Reiff won the nod of judges because of his agricultural innovations, including the reduction in the use of chemicals, and the elimination of some of the more powerful chemical pesticides.

He was also cited for his pioneer work in the direct-seeding of asparagus, and his work to increase soil productivity. His primary crops are tomatoes, sugar beets and wheat and alfalfa.

Reiff received a $500 cash award from the Bank of America, sponsor of the annual event. He will compete in March for the national title which is to be shared by four young farmers.

Chevrolet Truck Division of General Motors is the national sponsor and the contributor of expenses for Reiff and his wife on the trip to South Dakota, and the national competition.

More than 400 Jaycees hosted the event.

'Day of disruption' planned in N. Ireland

NEWRY, Northern Ireland (UPI)—More than 20,000 persons marched in the biggest demonstration in Northern Ireland history Sunday but turned back to avoid a clash with British troops. March organizers today called for a "day of disruption" Wednesday to protest the six-month anniversary of the government policy of detention without trial.

A spokesman for the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association said a province-wide sitdown demonstration was planned this week "to dislocate the functioning of the state and bring Northern Ireland to a standstill."

The government has about 750 persons in detention camps as suspected members of the Irish Republican Army (IRA). The IRA has been trying to forcibly unite Northern Ireland with the mostly Roman Catholic Irish Republic to the south.

The nearly three years of strife in Northern Ireland results in part from the contention of the Roman Catholic minority that the Protestant-dominated government discriminates against Catholics, particularly in jobs, housing and voting.

The organizers of Sunday's march of 20,000 Irish demonstrators said another civil rights march would be held next weekend in Enniskillen, about 10 miles from the border with the Irish Republic in County Fermanagh.

Sunday's demonstration, called in defiance of a government ban on parades, protested the Jan. 30 killing by British troops of 13 civilians in Londonderry. Each of the marchers wore a small, black-bordered cardboard badge cut in the shape of a coffin and bearing the number 13.

Led by a phalanx that included Bernadette Devlin, a member of British Parliament the marchers walked about half a mile of the planned 1½ mile route inserting dropped words.

The organizers turned the snake-like column of silent marchers—some carrying placards reading "British Pigs Out"—back to its assembly point in the Catholic Derrybeg Housing Estate.

Civil rights' leader Kevin Boyle said the organizers never intended to continue along the planned route to the center of this almost completely Roman Catholic town of 12,000, three miles from the Irish Republic border.

In Dublin, about 5,000 marchers also paraded silently through the streets in a show of support for the Newry march. According to customs officials in the Republic, another 10,000 Irishmen crossed the border to join the Dublin march. Many were stopped and searched.

Communists launch attack against Kontum

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist troops fired rockets into the central highlands province capital of Kontum today, and along the central coast militiamen claimed to have killed the Viet Cong "chief" of troubled Binh Dinh Province, military spokesmen said.

The rockets marked the first assault on Kontum, the city expected to be a prime target in a building Communist offensive in the highlands, according to allied intelligence.

The so-called province chief or "military-political commissar" for Binh Dinh was among six persons killed in a large bunker discovered by regional forces (RF) troops patrolling about five miles southwest of Phay My district town, a spokesman for the second military region told UPI correspondent Don Davis in Pleiku.

The spokesman said RF troops identified the man as the top Communist in the province from papers found on his body after they tossed grenades into the bunker. The spokesman was unable to supply his name or personal background.

A Viet Cong village chief and a doctor were also killed in the grenade attack, the spokesman said.

The Viet Cong dropped two Russian-made 112MM rockets early today near the province headquarters building, killing one Vietnamese soldier and wounding three others, Davis reported.

Kontum, a town of 30,000 population 260 miles north of Saigon, has been widely mentioned by allied officers as the most likely point to be attacked in any guerrilla offensive, expected to be timed with President Nixon's Feb. 21 visit to Peking.

Besides Kontum, the guerrillas shelled a hamlet near Chuong Nghia, 25 miles north-east of Kontum then attacked the militia outpost defending it.

One South Vietnamese soldier was wounded and two Viet Cong were killed, military sources said.

In 11 sizeable clashes and shellings in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. today (6 p.m. EST Sunday) the South Vietnamese command reported 74 Communist troops killed. Military sources said 17 South Vietnamese and one American were killed and 50 injured or wounded, including five Americans.

The heaviest fighting was in the U Minh

Forest in the Mekong Delta where 46 guerrillas were killed in three clashes at a cost of nine South Vietnamese killed and 30 wounded.

The fighting in the U Minh Forest near the southern tip of South Vietnam broke out late Sunday afternoon. In one battle along the coast 150 miles southwest of Saigon South Vietnamese troops killed 10 Viet Cong but lost two dead and three wounded.

In another clash near the center of the Everglades-like U Minh Forest, 140 miles southwest of Saigon, 31 Viet Cong were killed at a cost of seven South Vietnamese killed and 27 wounded.

The battles were in approximately the same areas where South Vietnamese 9th Infantry Division troops Thursday killed 14 guerrillas but lost nine dead and 16 wounded in a series of scattered battles.

Hughes notes may be 18-years old

NEW YORK (UPI)—A transcript with marginal notes in Howard Hughes' handwriting that Clifford Irving used as proof that an autobiography of the billionaire was authentic may be 18 years old, Newsweek magazine reported Sunday.

An agent of Intertel, Hughes' intelligence network, claimed the transcript originally may have been used as the basis for a long profile on Hughes that appeared in Look magazine in 1954, Newsweek said in an article in its current issue.

Stephen White, who wrote the Look article, confirmed that tapes and transcripts were made of his Hughes' interviews in 1954, Newsweek said, and that he thought he remembered that Hughes had made handwritten corrections. White, however, said he thought all that material had been burned years ago.

Irving, who showed the transcript to McGraw-Hill Book Co. to prove that he had met with Hughes in a series of interviews, was scheduled to appear before a federal grand jury today.

The grand jury, investigating whether mail fraud or other federal offenses are involved, summoned Irving and his wife Edith to testify behind closed doors on the book that cost McGraw-Hill $650,000 in advance payments. The company thought the money was going to Hughes but Edith Irving deposited it in Swiss bank accounts.

Writer Richard Suskind, who said that as Irving's research assistant he met Hughes and discussed organic prunes with him, left Spain aboard an Iberia airliner for New York today to appear before the grand jury. He was served a subpoena at his Mallorca home Friday and ordered to appear with all his notes, tapes and other material he might have collected for the book.

Danish Baroness Nina Van Pallandt, a blonde folk singer, said in London she expected to fly to New York Tuesday to appear before the grand jury.

She has stated that she was with Irving during a five-day visit to Oaxaca, Mexico, last year when he claims to have had one of his interviews with Hughes. The Baroness, however, said she was with Irving almost constantly and did not see how he could have met Hughes.

Life magazine introduced another mystery woman into the case Sunday. The magazine said a blonde scuba diver, identified only as Ann Baxter, flew with Irving to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands last December and gave him scuba lessons there.

Irving swore in a court paper filed in January that he flew to St. Croix last Dec. 10 on instructions from a Hughes' aide for what was supposed to be his final meeting with Hughes. Irving said, however, he did not hear from Hughes and left Dec. 12.

Warrants for the arrest of both Irvings have been issued by Swiss authorities on charges of fraud and forgery. Proceedings to extradite Mrs. Irving, a Swiss citizen, were started Saturday. But U.S. Government sources have indicated they want to complete their investigation before considering the extradition.

The Swiss authorities have impounded $450,000 found in a bank account and believed to be part of the $650,000 McGraw-Hill thought Hughes received.

Nation's weather

United Press International

Midwesterners shivered under a new, subzero cold snap today while New Yorkers grumbled over the city's worst snowfall of the winter.

New York City officials declared a snow emergency after more than three inches of snow fell on the city Sunday.

The National Weather Service predicted that the snow would end early today with no appreciable further accumulations.

Snow covered the central and northern parts of New Jersey Sunday with accumulations of up to six inches. Police reduced speed limits on the New Jersey Turnpike to 35 miles per hour because of hazardous conditions.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect today for southeastern New York, portions of West Virginia, western Pennsylvania, northern New Jersey and southern New England, where four inches or more of snow were expected. Travelers' warnings were posted from northern Arkansas to southern New England because of snow-slicked roads.

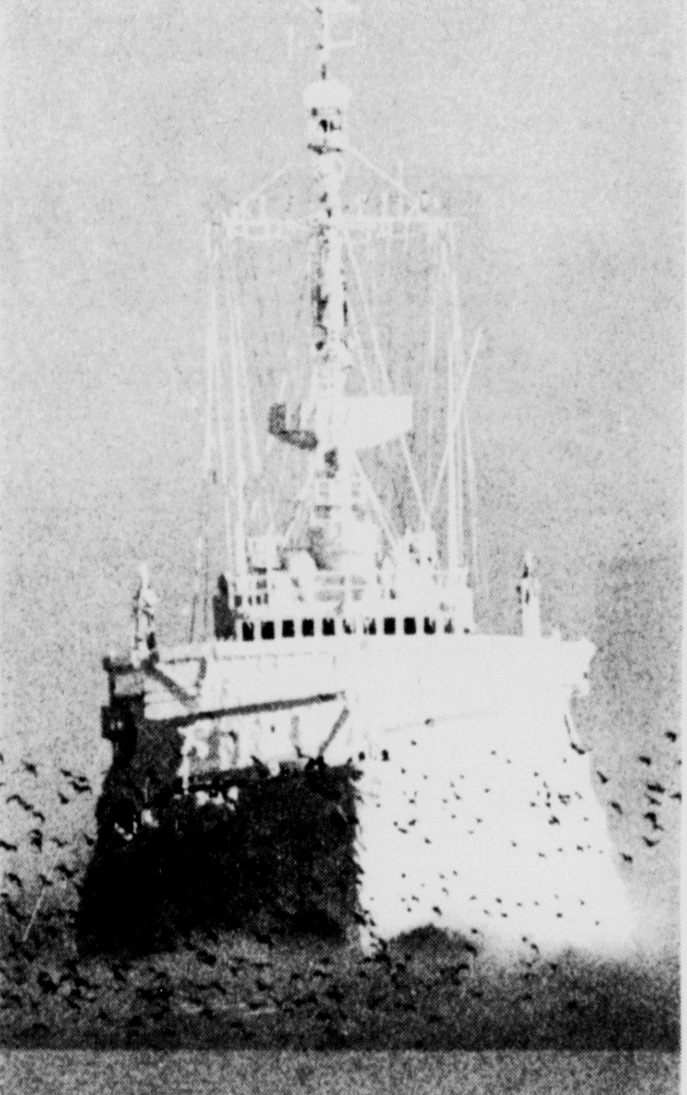

Arctic air gripped the nation's midsection from the Great Plains to the Great Lakes today, driving the temperatures to below the zero mark in many locations.

Snow flurries and some snow squalls spun over the Great Lakes region today, but accumulations were generally light.

Cold wave or near cold wave conditions were expected in Indiana, portions of western Ohio and northern Arkansas. Subzero temperatures were common as far south as southern Iowa early today.

Milder conditions prevailed along the Gulf Coast, but showers and thunderstorms put a damper on any plans to enjoy the mild temperatures.

Moderate rains fell in much of the coastal area of the Pacific Northwest.

THE EFFECT APPEARS GHOSTLY, but actually it's mostly seasonal. The U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker Edisto emerges from the frosty mists of Lake Michigan to enter Milwaukee harbor, catching ducks by surprise.

FAA adds 200 security officers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Administration, reacting to two hijackings in three days recently, has put 200 security officers on duty to screen passengers at major airports.

The guards will use new procedures designed to head off a potential hijacker before he can get on an airplane. Security measures include behavior study, magnetic checks for metal objects, establishment of identification and physical searches.

FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer issued the order to use the guards on an emergency basis because of the "alarming increase in hijacking incidents including the extortion of large sums of money". The guards went on duty Sunday.

FBI agents killed Heinrich Von George of Brockton, Mass., to end a hijacking Jan. 27 and wounded Garrett D. Trappnell of Miami, Fla. in another air piracy Jan. 29.

"FAA has ordered the airlines to screen all passengers on all flights because we believe — and always have — that the best place to stop a hijacking is at the aircraft boarding gate," Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said in announcing the security precautions.

Trappnell and Von George either displayed discernible personality traits or carried weapons that reportedly would have been discovered by a metal detecting device, had security personnel been on duty when the men boarded the airliners, officials said.

Mechanics, Airwest agreement

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Striking mechanics and Hughes Airwest have reached tentative agreement on a new contract that could end a seven-week walkout against the airline.

Airwest, owned by billionaire Howard Hughes, will continue to fly its severely limited strike schedule until the 570 members of the Aircraft Mechanics Fraternal Association ratify the pact in a mail vote.

Airline spokesman Lee Pitt announced the agreement Sunday and said it was also subject to approval by the Federal Pay Board.

No details of the settlement were disclosed pending the ratification vote.

The AMFA represents mechanics and aircraft cleaners. It struck Dec. 15 in a dispute over wages, fringe benefits and work rules.

Pilots and other personnel refused to cross picket lines and flights were suspended to 74 cities in eight Western States, Canada and Mexico.

Since Dec. 23, Airwest has used supervisory personnel to fly three routes between six cities during the week. Special weekend flights have been made from the San Francisco Bay Area to four Mexican cities.

Airwest won a court injunction Dec. 21 ordering members of the Air Lines Pilots Association not to engage in a work stoppage. However, the pilots called in sick and at one point the airline announced the firing of some fliers.

House still short of votes to force bus bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At least 139 House members back a move to force the House to take a vote on a proposed constitutional amendment to outlaw busing to achieve racial balance in public schools.

This is far short of the 218 signatures required to force a piece of legislation out of committee and bring it to the floor for a vote; but the representatives who have signed the petition thus far are from 33 states, indicating a wide base of support.

A list of the signatures, obtained by UPI, showed backers among lawmakers from all Southern and Border states, except for Arkansas, and from Massachusetts, Michigan, California and New York.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has had the proposed amendment bottled up in his Judiciary Committee, although he had promised to hold hearings on it starting March 1. Southerners began collecting signatures on the discharge petition in August and have continued the effort despite Celler's plans to hold the hearings.

House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan is among those backing the move.

The amendment would have to pass both the House and Senate by at least a two-thirds vote and then be ratified by three-fourths of the states before it could become part of the Constitution.

The proposed amendment:

"No public school student shall, because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school."

California still attached to continent

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)— Relax, Californians. The Pacific Coast is still attached to the rest of the continent today.

Radio Station KPCC-FM broadcast a two hour news special Sunday, describing a fictitious catastrophe set off by an underground nuclear test. The simulated newscast described a series of events, winding up with the Golden Gate Bridge toppling into San Francisco Bay and the Pacific Coast from Alaska to Southern California slipping into the ocean.

The broadcast set off worried telephone calls to law enforcement agencies and newsrooms in the Los Angeles area.

The program was preceded and followed by announcements pointing out that it was not a real newscast, a requirement imposed by the Federal Communications Commission after Orson

Wells' famous broadcast of the 1930s that panicked some people into believing the earth had been invaded by creatures from space.

4,000-year-old papyrus

CAIRO (UPI) — Archeologists digging near Cairo have discovered a papyrus document about 4,000 years old written in Aramaic, the language of Christ, and Egyptian antiquarian said today.

Kamal Mallakh, an authority in ancient languages, said it was "a major discovery."

"This is a very rare discovery he said." The last Aramaic Papyrus was found 20 years ago on an island in the river Nile at Aswan."

Papyrus is a reed in abundance along the banks of the Nile. During Biblical times the Egyptians used it to make parchment for writing and to construct sea-going vessels.

"The document appears to tell of a plan dating from 2,000 years before the birth of Christ for a Syrian invasion of Egypt and of how the Egyptians countered the plan," Mallakh said.

Experts began study of the document which was discovered at Sakkara, 15 miles south of Cairo, where a British archeological expedition has been searching for several years for the tomb of Imhotep.

Imhotep was a doctor, philosopher, politician and architect who built the nearby stepped pyramid of King Zoser, reputedly the oldest structure in the world.

The excavation was started by Walter Emery who died last year after digging in Egypt for 41 years. Professor Harry Smith and Dr. Geoffrey Martin of London University are continuing his work.

They said if they discovered Imhotep's tomb they hoped to find papyrus papers outlining his architectural and medical theories.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office ... he helps everybody with their return ... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you year 'round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

Plastic plants
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles County has a benevolent climate, year-round sunshine and is one of the most fertile agricultural areas of the world.
And it has plastic plants.

BLUSTERY skies dropped a fraction of an inch of rain on the Lompoc Valley area Saturday raising the season total to 6.37 inches. Last year at this time there had been 6.84 inches.
JESSE Garza, 19, a transient, faced court action today on charges of unlawful sexual intercourse and child molestation, stemming from a relationship that allegedly occurred last summer with a 12-year-old girl. Police arrested the man Saturday afternoon in the 700 Block of North A Street. Bail was set at $4,375.

BROOKS Robert Steinke, 17, of 305 North X St., escaped injury when he lost control of his car on Highway 246 Saturday night, but a passenger in his car sustained a cut on the right arm. The passenger, Bill Carter, 17, of Lompoc was treated at Lompoc Hospital and released. The California Highway Patrol said Steinke's car apparently skidded on wet pavement, ran off the road, east of Purisima Road and hit a dirt bank.

BURGLARS broke into the Royal Coach Restaurant at Ocean Avenue and A Street Friday night and stole two saxophones, a television set, a bottle of wine and some miscellaneous items, according to police reports. Value of the loss was estimated at $1,290.
AN ESTIMATED $357 has been reported missing from service station at 1501 W. Ocean Ave., and police believe it was stolen. The incident was reported Sunday afternoon. The money was in a pouch that has not been found.

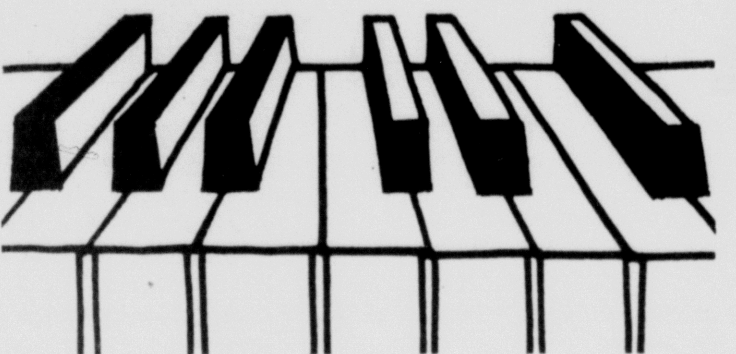

THE LAST dance of the season will be held at the Memorial Building Thursday night from 10 p.m. to midnight and all teens are welcome. Sponsored by the Lompoc Recreation Department with admission of $1 being collected at the door. Sounds are being provided by Rick Gregory's "Tree of Life."
THE FIRST Presbyterian Church, 1600 Berkeley Dr., will hold a meet the candidates forum on March 22, 7:30 p.m., for the municipal election. The Rev. Ken Boyd will seek confirmation for the appearance of each of the eight candidates. The forum is the first to be announced.

SECOND OF four lectures on "Investing For The 1970's," sponsored by Allan Hancock College Adult Education Division, will be given today, 7 p.m. in room H41.
"Bonds, What They Are And How To Use Them In A Balanced Investment Program," will be covered by F. W. Morf, course coordinator. Subsequent lectures will cover other types of investments, including stocks and various kinds of mutual funds.
THE DISTRICT Office of Congressman Charles M. Teague will be open tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Post Office Building in Santa Maria. Teague's office will be attended by Mrs. Kathryn M. Keith, field assistant. Anyone wishing to make a contact at any time may call WA 2-4491, an answering service.

'Cheap' water possibility
The possibility of the county's getting "cheap" desalted supplemental water from a federal experimental desalination plant in San Luis Obispo county seemed to gain a bit of ground today.
County Water Consultant Robert Edmonston, who feels the county should take advantage of the situation if at all possible, said a state feasibility report may soon go to the legislature.
However, it was felt in some quarters there is no certainty the state legislators will provide funding to go with Federal aid on the project. If this happens, the project could be stalled.
Also, county citizens would have to show they would be willing to be taxed for the system.

Can brownouts or blackouts happen here?

There's plenty of electricity here today, and, as the chart shows, there's plenty in construction or planned to meet growing public needs and consumer demand through 1979.
There have been no brownouts or blackouts here because PG&E has built new electric facilities on schedule as needed.
But if our construction program is slowed down unduly or stopped, there definitely can be brownouts or blackouts here. We build ahead to prevent such problems. And we must continue building, because nowadays it takes about 10 years to acquire a suitable site, obtain regulatory approvals, construct and get a new power plant "on the line."
There are individuals and groups who are trying to slow down or stop construction of electric plants and transmission lines. Some even claim growth and progress are at an end or should be, and that therefore more electric power capacity is not necessary.

The fact is that power demands are going to continue to increase. And PG&E must meet these demands reliably and on time or there will be power shortages. We are doing our job now and are ready, willing and able to keep on doing it. Moreover, qualified, competent and responsible public agencies assure that in doing so we serve the best public interests, including environmental and ecological considerations.
To keep your electricity on tomorrow, PG&E must build today.

SELECTING MUSIC for Lompoc Chamber Singers program Wednesday night at party hosted by Jr. Alpha Club for the senior club, are Mrs. Harold (Bernice) Reck, soprano, and Duane Baker, director. Approving their choice is Mrs. DeWayne Holmdahl, Jr. Alpha co-chairman of hospitality and programs, at right.

Chamber Singers will entertain

Music by Lompoc Chamber Singers will be the program feature Wednesday night as Jr. Alpha Club members entertain the senior club. Festivities will start at 8 p.m. in the Ocean Ave. clubhouse. A valentine decor will prevail. Colorful punch and a variety of fondue dishes will provide refreshment.

Leading the Chamber Singers in their program of the evening will be Duane Baker. He and Mrs. Harold (Bernice) Reck, soprano vocalist, are two of the original 12 Chamber Singers when the group was organized five years ago.

With a unique combination of voices, the singers specialize in 15th Century chamber music, although they are not limited to that alone. They present their repertoire around a dining table, with the ladies seated and gentlemen standing. This was the custom centuries ago as guests joined their host and hostess in song following an evening meal.

Lompoc Jr. Alpha Club is affiliated with the California Federated Women's Clubs, junior membership of Tierra Adorada District. Under leadership of chairmen, committees work in such fields as Americanism, international affairs, fine arts, education, conservation, health, safety, mental health and youth.

Purpose of the Wednesday night gathering is to honor members of the Alpha Club. CFWC. In a reciprocal program each club hosts the other in a special party once a year. This provides an opportunity for members to become better acquainted.

Combining work, enjoyment, satisfaction and fun, the Alpha Clubs are described as well rounded organizations giving women an opportunity to fulfill community needs, creating a better city, state and nation.

All women of the local community who are interested in learning more about either club are invited to attend Mrs. Harry Joy is current Alpha Club president; Mrs. George Waudby, president of Jr. Alpha.

Women's Club slates talk on Boys Camp

Noel Hancock, director of education at Los Prietos Boys Camp, Santa Barbara Co., will be the guest speaker Wednesday for Lompoc Community Woman's Club. Occasion will be the February luncheon meeting at the Lions Inn. Serving will be at 12:30 o'clock.

Accompanying the main speaker will be two boy residents of the camp who will tell of the activities offered there. Women's Club members have shown an interest in the facility for a number of years and annually provide birthday cakes one month of the year. February is the month chosen this year.

Plans for the Wednesday meeting were discussed by the executive board last week in the home of Mrs. Richard Henning, DeWolfe Ave. Mrs. Reuben Carlson presided.

Announced were plans for club members to maintain the Thrift Shop of the Health and Welfare Coordinating Council this month. Two ladies will work in the shop each day this month.

Home and Garden chairmen, Ione Dunn and Kay Weston have arranged a special treat for their members Monday, Feb. 14. Meeting at the Royal Coach Restaurant at 9 a.m., the group will drive to Solvang or a visit to Burkholm's Bakery. From there they will go to the Continental Inn for luncheon and a talk by Chef Irwin. Spices and seasonings will be his subject.

Very special plans are being made for the celebration of Community Women's Club silver anniversary in March.

Interest groups meet this week

Special interest groups of Lompoc - Vandenberg Chapter, American Association of University Women will meet this week. Scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Charles Wheeler is the literature group. Discussed will be James Michener's "The Source."

In the home of Mrs. Richard Jacoby, observer corps will discuss proposed sign ordinances with City Planning Commission members, William Flack, Vernon Copeland and Merriane Pritchard.

Attending AAUW Southern District meeting in Camarillo Friday will be Mrs. Ernest White and Mrs. Richard Nash.

Food talk is slated

Vandenberg Association of Registered Nurses will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the base hospital cafeteria. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Daisy Horwitz of The Good Earth Natural Food Store, Santa Maria. Accompanying her will be Miss Sally Thomas who operates the store's juice bar. The two will tell what is available in the health food line and natural vitamins.

Those interested in attending may call Mrs. Martha Wolff, 4-2218 or Mrs. Diane Janick, 4-4581.

Friends honor birthday of Mrs. Mary Hill, 88

A happy surprise for Mrs. Mary Hill was the party given by friends in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, 1112 North Lupine St. Occasion was her 88th birthday anniversary Wednesday, Feb. 2.

A former resident of Weatherford, Texas, Mrs. Hill has made her home with the Coxes the last 11 years.

Present for the party celebration were Virginia Mallow and daughter Angela, Pauline Johnston, Marie Whisenant, Ethel Felde, Alice Bryant, Marty Jennings, Maggie Guariglia, Joetta Lyons and Amanda Jennings.

Also attending were her granddaughter, Mrs. Bill Smith, her husband and their three children, Patrick, Donna and Carol. Unable to attend but sending remembrances were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elder and Mrs. Sarah Wilkins.

Camp Fire candy sales go well

Announced as highly successful were the weekend results of Lompoc Camp Fire Girls annual candy sales. A phone survey showed that of 63 groups reporting, 7,656 boxes were sold. To each group participating 10 cents per box goes back to their group for supplies and activities. The sale has been extended one day to include Tuesday, Feb. 15.

All Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups who average 25 boxes sold per girl will be invited to a free Happy Face carnival, March 10 and 11. To the group selling the most boxes per girl (in each of six areas) a trophy will be awarded.

A certificate of appreciation will be given to each girl participating in the sales.

Friday, Feb. 18 is deadline for any remaining boxes to be returned, money deposited and accounts balanced.

Toastmistress tell theme for program

"Practice Makes Perfect," will be the theme of Lompoc Toastmistress Club luncheon meeting at the Village Inn Thursday at noon. Mrs. Gerry (Gail) Benson is program chairman. Mrs. Jay (Fran) Houston will preside.

Scheduled to participate are Mrs. Benson, invocation and Pledge to the Flag; Mrs. Robert (Lorraine) Holmes - toastmistress; and Mrs. Joseph (Olga) Martin, a workshop on the Art of Conversation. Mrs. Fred Atkin (Laura) will serve as general evaluator and Mrs. Dave (Winnie) Massey will be topicmistress. Mrs. Richard (Natalie) Arnold will be the timer.

The clubs annual speech contest is scheduled Feb. 17 at the Village Inn. Interested women of the community are invited to attend. Reservations may be made with Mrs. John (Minnie) Vilkaitis at RE 6-6029 or RE 6-1212.

The next meeting of Council 5 will be held in the Vandenberg Inn Feb. 12 when Mrs. William (Margo) Hicks, supervisor of Sierra Nevada Region, will present a workshop on the Preparation and Delivery of Speech. Mrs. Hicks is from Pleasant Hill.

Others featured on the Council program "The Wonderful Words of Women" will be Mrs. Clarence Pritchard of Lompoc and Mrs. Steve Cox of Santa Maria with officer training "Points for Presidents" and "Where to Find What."

Members will attend from Toastmistress Clubs in Santa Paula, Ventura, Point Magu, Point Hueneme, Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Lompoc, San Luis Obispo, and Atascadero. Council Chairman, Mrs. William (Betty) Gross of San Luis Obispo will preside at the meeting scheduled for 10 a.m.

Dear Abby

Vet never heard of a 'gay' jaguar

DEAR ABBY: Do you know anything about jaguars? We just got one for a pet and he is a very lovable cat. We wanted to mate him, so we borrowed a female jaguar for that purpose. We put them together and he wouldn't have a thing to do with her. She didn't seem to have any interest in him, either, but I think if he had romanced her a little, she might have cooperated.

My wife says she thinks our cat is homosexual. Abby, have you ever heard of a gay cat? I asked our vet, and he just laughed. I'd really like to know.

SERIOUS IN FLORIDA

DEAR SERIOUS: I asked one of the finest vets in the profession, (Dr. Herman Salk of Palm Springs, Cal.) and he didn't laugh. Instead he told me that unless the female is "in heat," the male will have nothing to do with her. And she could also care less about him. Also, some cats refuse to breed in captivity. And Dr. Salk concluded by saying that he had never heard of a four-legged gay cat.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you printed a letter from a California clergyman suggesting that marriages not licensed by the State might be performed to save consciences in cases where a divorce was not possible, or where a licensed marriage would lose certain benefits to the persons.

I think you ought to suggest that people find out the legal ramifications both for their clergyman and for themselves before attempting such action.

In the Commonwealth of Virginia, a clergyman posts $500 bond that he will perform no marriages not recognized by the State. Similar provisions exist in the three other States in which I have served my ministry. I write this in order that people's expectations not be raised about things which cannot be done.

A VIRGINIA CLERGYMAN

DEAR CLERGYMAN: I appreciate your writing. In all matters having to do with "the law," since the laws differ from state to state, as a matter of policy, a lawyer, or the local Legal Aid Society, should always be consulted.

DEAR ABBY: Whoever said that all the telephone chief operators are MALES is wrong! At least in Pennsylvania, you are.

I am a telephone operator for Bell of Pennsylvania, and all the chief operators I know are WOMEN.

I wish the chief operators WERE men because I would rather work for a man than a woman. Also, I'll bet no man would take the foul language we women operators take from the customers.

FEMALE

DEAR FEMALE: Interesting that a woman would rather have a man for her boss. Also, what can a man do about "foul language" from the customers that a woman can't do?

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHIRLEY T. IN ORLANDO, FLA: I liked your husband's quote, "Anyone can complain, criticize and condemn. Most fools do." I'll credit ALBERT with that one. (Not "EINSTEIN," "TAVARES"!)

THREE LAYETTES, neatly packed in baby bathtubs was a community service gift to Lompoc Hospital last week from Alpha Zeta chapter Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. In a double role of hospital nurse and sorority chapter president was Mrs. Kathy Polischuk, left, pictured with Mrs. Virgil Bonham, R.N., and Mrs. William Graham, sorority chapter vice president.

Polly's pointers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I have an answer for Sherrie who does not know what to do with all the bottle caps she has saved. I remove the corks and bend the caps tightly over a length of drapery cord. Make several of these of the desired lengths and attach to a narrow board and then spray paint board, caps and cord the desired color (I used gold) and use to cover the screens on a porch. This is something different and makes an odd sound when a breeze blows. They can also be used to cover a doorway opening to a den or other such room.—THELMA

DEAR POLLY—Perhaps Sherrie who has the collection of bottle caps knows about nailing them with the rough edges up to cover a board that can be used as a foot scraper but had you thought of arranging them in picture form or to spell your last name and then paint them? Or make a child's musical instrument using an old ruler or a smooth piece of board? Put about three flattened cap lids loosely, one on top of the other, on a long nail which you drive into the board and have a tambourine-type noise when moved. The caps slide up and down the nail and our children love them.—JEAN

DEAR POLLY—Sherrie could glue several of her bottle caps to the backs of pictures, mirrors, etc., before re-hanging in a newly painted room. By doing this the wall behind the object has more chance of fading evenly and leaving only a couple of little spots of fresh-looking paint to show come cleaning time. This allows one to arrange pictures in a room without having definite outlines left.

Have your husband squash several lids from pop bottles together and use them as weights when making draperies. Leave a one-inch opening in the hem for inserting and removing so as to make washing and drying easier.

Pop bottle caps can be covered with crochet or fabric and made into hot plate pads. No specific pattern is needed. Just use your own imagination.—RUTH

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Help, please! Some sort of pest is eating the leaves on my herbs. A poisonous spray cannot be used as then I could not use the herbs for eating. Does anyone have a suggestion?—NANCY

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve concerns the sloppy way I have seen our American flag flown. With the increased interest in showing our patriotism some people have relaxed in the proper way to fly the flag. I have seen it hanging limp in the rain and also flapping by one corner in the wind. It seems it would be better to not fly the flag if it cannot be done properly.—MARIAN

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with the difference in traffic laws in different states. I think they should be standardized throughout the United States. Two years ago, while driving in New York, my husband asked if he could make a right turn after stopping at a red light, which is permissible in California. Furious honking from the N.Y. car behind us answered his question when he was turning a corner. I was glad we had a rental car with another state license so they could not blame it on "those crazy California drivers."—PHYLLIS

Jim: "Players who use the code word ARCH are apt to be lucky."

Oswald: "The 'A' stands for Analyze the lead. The 'R' for Review the bidding. The 'C' for Count your winners and losers and the 'H' stands for How can I make or defeat this contract depending on whether you are declarer or defender."

Jim: "Today's hand is typical of ones shown in old auction bridge books on play. Of course, the auction contract would be one no-trump, but in auction the declarer would still try to make three in order to score game. You got credit for everything you made in auction."

Oswald: "West opens the deuce of spades. East plays the queen and South probably holds off until the third lead of the suit. This makes no difference. Then South cashes four diamonds and notes that West shows out on the second lead."

Jim: "The auction writer would analyze the lead as fourth best of West's longest and strongest suit. He would note that West held just one diamond. Then he would explain that West would have led a heart or club if he held five cards in one of those suits. Hence, analysis of the lead and the diamond play showed that West had started with 4-4-1-1 distribution."

Oswald: "That is still pretty good reasoning today. Therefore, when South played clubs after cashing the diamonds he would cash his ace and queen; lead the eight; finesse dummy's 10."

MINI TRAVEL WARDROBE

Designer Giorgio Di Santangelo has a new travel/resort weekend wardrobe that fits in a tiny envelope. It includes a two-piece swimsuit, tights, a tunic and wrap skirt. The price is high, but by the time summer rolls around, moderately priced versions of the travel wardrobe envelope should be available.—everything wrinkle-proof, of course.

BEACHWEAR FUN

One-piece bathing suits, in clinging jersey with skinny crisscross straps fastening in the back, are part of this year's beachwear fun as they follow the 1930s look of sexy glamor.

HANG THE CHAINS

For chain necklaces and belts, instead of storing in jewelry boxes or drawers, where they can become tangled, why not buy a man's tie-rack that can hang in the closet as a "chain rack."

USEFUL BABY RINGS

Baby rings that no longer fit can still prove functional and attractive. Use one as a tie slide for those attractive apache scarves or long shoulder scarves.

TIE TIP

Borrow your husband's ties for the man-tailored look that goes with the blazer jacket and pants. Or better yet, get hold of one of the easy tie-making patterns and make his and her ties.

VOLUPTUOUS LOOK

Emphasis for today's clothes has been the very long, lean body. Longer skirts, suppressed waists all

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7
— Born today, you are a person of opposites. Your highs are matched by your lows, your periods of enthusiasm by periods of disinterest, your likes by dislikes, and your involvements by a strictly hands-off attitude. Aware at all times of exactly what is going on around you, you nevertheless sometimes prefer to be unresponsive to your surroundings. On the other hand, your ability to make decisions strictly on the basis of your surroundings guarantees continuity between what you do and where you are.

ZODY

By MARV MYERS

"I just read my 1972 forecast... I think I'll pass and go directly to 1973!"

As a child you were probably noted for having wisdom beyond your years; as an adult you will be taken for wise by most people who have dealings with you, and most especially by those who work closely with you. You have a special knack for getting along with other people — and the more obviously they differ from you, the easier you find it to discover areas of hidden likenesses that make working, playing, or living together possible.

You enjoy people and spend a great deal of time and energy trying to make others happy in one way or another. Nor do you limit your good deeds to friends and family; on the contrary, you are perhaps more inclined to do what you can to benefit a stranger in need than one of them you are especially fond. Your feeling is that you may never get another chance to help the stranger.

Tuesday, February 8

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Unexpected news this morning may require that you change your plans. Do what you can to keep things as close to normal as possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — A material gain makes it possible for you to accomplish something new before day's end. Don't take another's advantage away from him, however.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Where friends are concerned, don't expect too much at this time. Where business matters are concerned, you have the go-ahead.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Begin now to campaign for what you want to accomplish by spring. Business colleagues may be able to help you start the ball rolling.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Important correspondence must be taken care of immediately. Otherwise, you may find that you have fallen behind in matters vital to success.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — The financial tide may be running against you at the moment. Take care, however, not to panic or you may make things irrevocably worse.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Take special pains with grooming today. Appearance may make the difference between a step upward or a step back. Meet with higher-ups.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Personal activities may not be as rewarding as you had hoped they would be. Don't worry about "missing the boat"; there will be another one.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Co-operation is the key to success today, whether at home or on the employment scene. Plan for a restful evening and early to bed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The unexpected brings danger — but you can circumvent trouble by being extremely watchful. Friends and strangers both come to your rescue at evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Routine activities will have to satisfy you today — or nothing will. There is little time left over for entering upon exciting endeavors.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Keep all purchases on a cash basis. Conclude important business matters early in the day. A good time for rounding up support.

US skater wins medal; hockey hopes soar

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI)— Little Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill., brought the United States its second medal of the XVI Winter Olympic Games Monday when she placed third and took the bronze medal in women's figure skating.

Miss Lynn, 19, put on a spectacular free skating performance—even earning a perfect 6.0 rating from one judge—but it wasn't enough to catch frontrunner Beatrix "Trixi" Schuba of Austria, who built an insurmountable lead in the compulsory figures.

Miss Schuba, a tall, 20-year-old native of Vienna, turned in a routine performance, playing it safe in the free skating, to win the gold medal. Canada's Karen Magnusson won the silver medal.

Julie Lynn Holmes of North Hollywood, Calif., second after the compulsory figures—six designs skated under the close scrutiny of a judges panel—had a poor free skating performance and fell to fourth place in the final standings.

The medal-winning performance by Miss Holmes came after the young U.S. hockey team, inspired by the brilliant goaltending of Mike Curran, pulled off the upset of the hockey tournament by stunning heavily favored Czechoslovakia 5-1.

Curran, a veteran of international competition who joined the U.S. club shortly before it departed for Sapporo, was sensational after allowing the lone Czechoslovakian goal at 4:32 of the first period. He turned back 39 shots in the first two periods alone, and 52 in all, including a stellar effort on a breakaway by Jiri Holik.

The U.S. victory, combined with Sweden's 3-3 tie with Russia, a co-favorite along with Czechoslovakia, turned the hockey tournament into a wide open race.

The outstanding individual performance of the day came from Ard Schenk, the Dutch speed skating star, who completed his gold medal triple by winning the gruelling 10,000-meter event after earlier taking the 1,500 and 5,000 meter crowns.

Bernhard Russi of Switzerland, the favorite, came through to win the men's downhill ski race with a time of one minute, 51.43 seconds.

Schenk, a 27-year-old physiotherapist, turned in an Olympic record time of 15:01.35 to beat countryman Cees Verkerk, who was more than 3 seconds behind. Sten Swensen of Norway took third.

Sven-Ake Lundbeck, a 24-year-old in only his first year of international competition, won the 15-kilometer cross country ski with a time of 45 minutes, 28.24 seconds, beating Russia's Fedor Simaschov and Norway's Ivar Skobov.

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI)—Medal standings after Monday's competition at the 11th Winter Olympic Games:

Jones over Murphy in Hawaiian playoff

HONOLULU (UPI)—Young Grier Jones, the 1968 NCAA golf titlist, sat with a bottle of soda pop in his hands after winning the $200,000 Hawaiian Open Sunday in a sudden death playoff over chunky Bob Murphy.

Jones, 26, from Wichita, Kan., and a graduate of Oklahoma State, was reflecting on his 3½ years on the pro tour.

"I can say that I really worked hard for 3½ years," he told newsmen after pocketing the $40,000 winner's check.

Jones dropped a two-foot putt for a par on the first playoff hole after ending the 72-hole tournament with a 14-under-par 274 with Murphy. Murphy had just missed a three-footer and finished with a bogey on the par-four 15th, which was being used as the first playoff hole.

The 15th had never given Jones any trouble during the four days.

But Murphy, who was seeking his first tournament win since the Hartford Open in 1970, had a bogey and three pars on that eventful hole. Jones had two birdies and two pars.

Murphy, a cigar-smoking pro from Jacksonville, Fla., said the hole that cost him the tournament was the 14th in which he scored a bogey five after being 15-under and a shot ahead of Jones who was playing ahead of him.

Murphy's second shot was in the sand trap and he missed his third. His fourth hit the cup and bounced out.

Picking up third place money was Charles Coody who fashioned a four-under-par 68 for a 275 total. Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., was right behind with 276 after carding a four-under-68. Tied at 278 were Bob Rosburg, John Schlee, Bunky Henry, Jim Jamieson and Curtis Sifford.

Williams set for Times

Terry Williams will be out to defend his claim to the top spot in the Southern California high school indoor two-mile field a week from today when he will compete in the prestigious Times Indoor Track meet at the Forum.

Williams, a junior at Lompoc

High, swept to an easy win over several arch area distance rivals two weeks back in the Sunkist Invitational.

Williams will run during the regular meet, which begins at 8 p.m. Teammate Roger Hansen will go along as an alternate.

Conq swimmers take 2nd

The Cabrillo High swimmers jumped off to a good start Friday afternoon when they swam to a second place at the Buena Relays. The Conqs took three firsts, two seconds, a third and a fifth in the seven event meet to grab 70 points.

Buena was high with 88. Other participating schools were San Marcos, Hueneme, Thousand Oaks, and Ventura.

The Hill medley relay team of Don Reeser, Walter Heidmous, Gary Anderson, and Randy Nogle set a meet record, school record, and beat the old league record time with a quick 1:46.1, a time that qualified them for CIF in the event.

Another Hill school record was set in the 400 yard Individual Medley Relay as Anderson, Randy Phillips, Reeser and Jeff Heidmous swam 4:07.2 for first place.

The same team set a meet record 1:45.4 in the 4x50 Butterfly Relay.

Heidmous, Nogle, Gordon McManus, Jim Rawson, Mickey Stowell, and Larry Rock took a second in the 6x50 Freestyle Relay, followed by a third in the 4x50 Breaststroke Relay by Walt, Rock, Rawson, and Stowell.

Nogle, Phillips, Jeff and McManus notched at a second in the 4x100 Freestyle Relay.

Cabrillo swims again tomorrow in the CIF relays.

Hill golf win

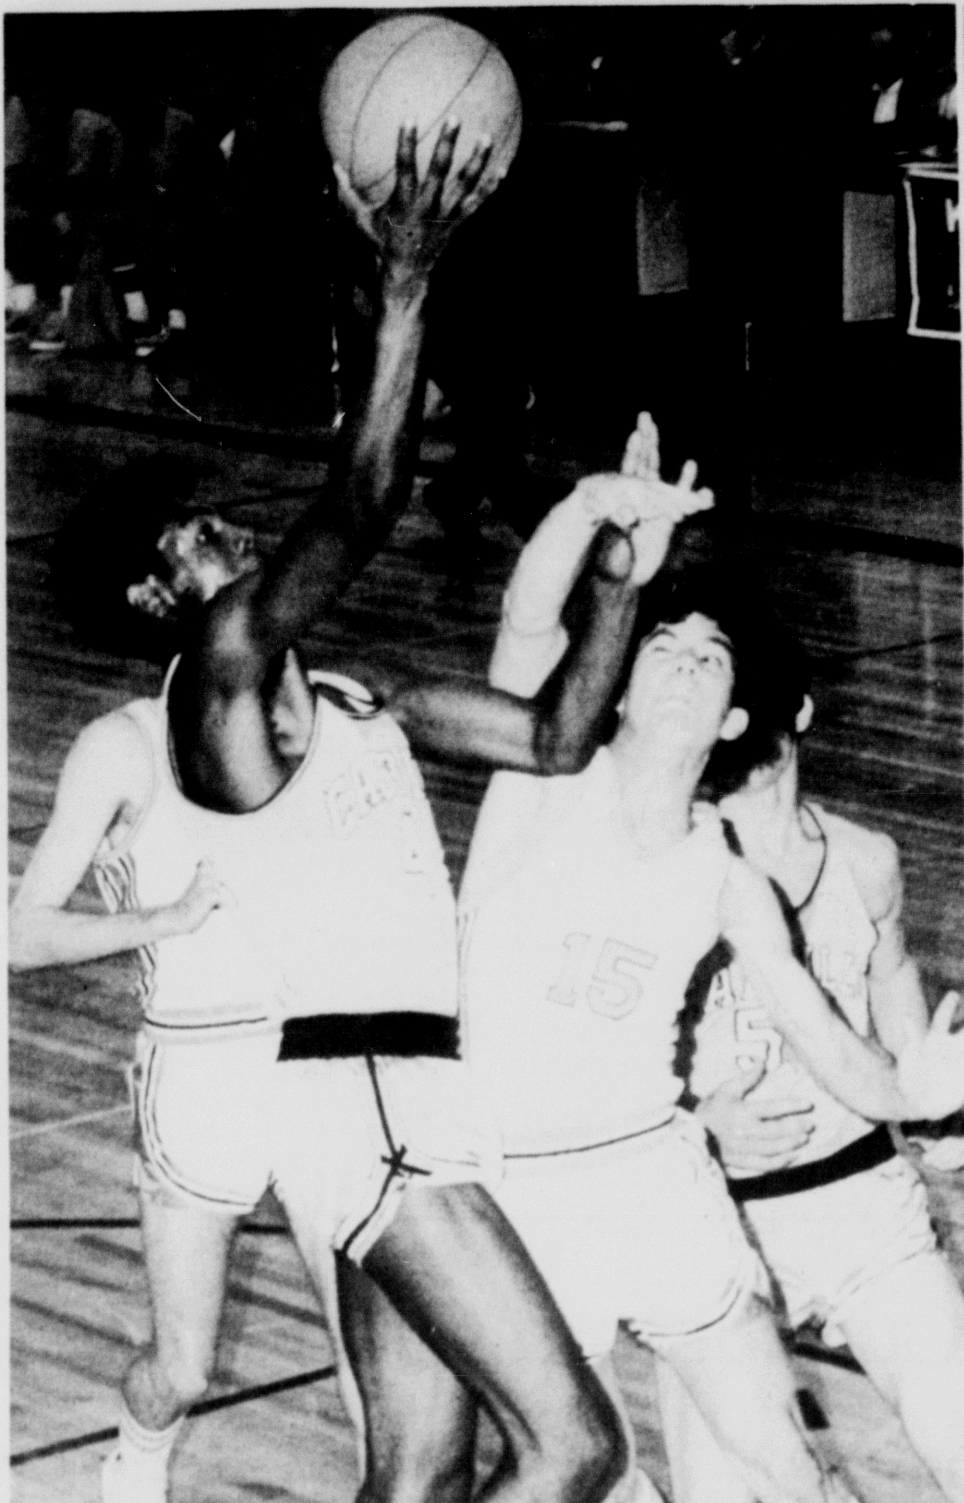

The Cabrillo High golf team downed St. Joseph High 31-5 in the season opener Friday in the rain and cold at the Rancho Maria course.

Rick Burris was the varsity medalist, shooting a 79 to down Brad Parrish (95) 6-0. Terry MacClure followed with an 83.

Conq Tim Lockwood shot 83 also to take his match 4-2, followed by wins by Jack Dillard (89) 5-1, and Jim Gray (85) 6-0.

The Hill JV's also won, 10-0 in nine holes behind medalist Craig Pageau (45), Mike Knisely (45), Chris Cox, Mark Burris and Mark Dederia.

The next Cabrillo match is Feb. 24 against Morro Bay.

KEVIN DRAKE of Cabrillo (left) gets off a shot Friday night against San Luis, while Lompoc's Dallas Riley (right) hauls in a rebound. Both teams lost Friday, will meet each other tomorrow night in the Cabrillo gym.

Lakers crush Bullets, run new streak to six

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Here come those Los Angeles Lakers again.

Bill Sharman's surprise package, a team which reeled off a record 33 straight victories in the National Basketball Association this season, posted their sixth win in a row Sunday night.

The 151-127 romp over the Baltimore Bullets before a Forum crowd of 17,103 left the Lakers with a 47-7 record.

Los Angeles, which has 28 regular season games left before it takes a run at its first NBA title in the playoffs, now goes on the road for four games.

The Lakers are at New York Tuesday night, Atlanta Wednesday night and Boston Friday night before capping the trip with a national television game against the Bullets at College Park, Md., next Sunday.

John Q. Trapp, a four-year veteran acquired on waivers from the Houston Rockets in November, scored a career high 27 points off the bench against Baltimore.

The 6-foot-7 forward, who suddenly has become the Lakers' No. 1 front line reserve, was 11 for 16 from the floor and picked off 11 rebounds.

"As the games get rougher and more physical," Sharman said, "that's where Trapp will shine. All he needs is more playing time."

The Lakers broke the game open by scoring 38 of the last 50 points in the second period, going in front 64-49 at the intermission. Playing without the injured Wes Unseld, the Bullets did not get closer than 12 points in the second half.

Jerry West hit 16 of his 25 points in the 38-point surge.

Sharman wound up using 10 of his 11 players (Keith Erickson sat out the game with a sore knee) and eight of them finished with double figures.

Rookie Jim McMillian tallied 20, Gail Goodrich made 19, Wilt Chamberlain added 17 and Flynn Robinson got 15 in a reserve role.

The Laker coach also wanted to talk about his starting guards. "I feel that right now Goodrich and West are the two best guards ever to play this game," Sharman remarked. "They compliment each other so very well. By this, I mean their passing, defense and scoring. Everything together."

The Bullets, who lost their fourth in a row, paced by ex-Laker Archie Clark with 38 points.

Chet Walker, who says he'll probably play only one more year of pro basketball, may change his mind after Sunday's performance.

Walker, who'll be 32 later this month and is in his 10th National Basketball Association season, cut loose with a 56-point performance Sunday as the Chicago Bulls trounced the Cincinnati Royals, 119-94.

The 56 points represent a career-high for Walker and mark the most points scored by one player in the NBA this season. Milwaukee's Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had the previous high of 54. Walker also set a team mark for most field goals in a game—22.

UCLA, Marquette title showdown?

By United Press International

UCLA and Marquette won again Saturday night as the No. 1 and 2 teams displayed their muscle on national television and seemed determined as ever to carry their credentials to a showdown in the NCAA tournament in March.

John Wooden's top-ranked Bruins, winners of 17 in a row this season and 32 straight over the last two years, zone-pressed an injury-racked Southern California team almost out of Pauley Pavilion. The Trojans turned the ball over 21 times en route to an 81-56 shellacking.

Bill Walton, UCLA's 6-foot-11 center, left the game with eight minutes remaining after scoring a team high 22 points and collecting 10 rebounds.

Coach Al McGuire of Marquette watched his son, Allie, provide the sparks that eventually burned up DePaul as the Warriors marched to their 17th consecutive victory 79-61.

Third-ranked Louisville, loser earlier in the week to Memphis State, bounced back into the Missouri Valley Conference lead with a convincing 92-75 romp over Drake as the Cardinals drew strength from Ron Thomas' 21 points, Jim Price's 20 points and Bill Bunton's 16 rebounds.

Sixth-ranked South Carolina put down an upset effort by Clemson that saw both teams record 48 fouls before South Carolina put an end to the battle, 62-58, on one and one free throw conversions by Rick Aydtlett, Kevin Joyce and Tom Riker. Riker's 13 points were tops for the Gamecocks.

No. 7 Penn, paced by 6-foot-8 junior forward Phil Hankinson's 33 points, routed Dartmouth, 86-66, to remain tied with Brown for the Ivy League lead.

Feuerbach sets new shot mark

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI)—The world indoor shotput record was shattered by more than five inches Saturday as Californian Al Feuerbach tossed the shot 69-4 3-4 during the Sam Bennion games here.

The games, attracting more than 600 prep stars, former Olympians, female tracksters and college thinclads, were played in Idaho State University's Minidome.

Feuerbach's standard-breaking toss exceeded his old mark set last year in San Francisco. He competes with the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach, Calif.

The PCC's Tommy White toyed with the world record books himself in the 120 high hurdles with his record matching run of 13.5 seconds. That time ties the world record set on an indoor course in 1970 by Willie Davenport.

Long Beach State pole vaulter Steve Smith recorded the highest jump ever accomplished in Idaho with a 17 1-4 leap. He then failed three times to top 17-4.

Roberto inks large pact

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—It took Pittsburgh Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown only five minutes to sign superstar Roberto Clemente to a 1972 contract for a reported $150,000.

"Roberto and I have been getting along for 17 years," Brown said Sunday night at the 36th Annual Dapper Dan banquet. "It wasn't difficult signing him—it wasn't my money."

Terms of the contract were not disclosed, but it was reported Clemente received a raise of $25,000 over his 1971 contract.

Brown then looked around the banquet room and noted other Pirates players who had not come to terms.

"Don't worry, boys," he said. "There's still some money left."

DUELING for the edge in the Open Intermediate heat at Saturday's Spillway Park Motocross, Harvey Wynne of Lompoc (93 — Suzuki) here leads Dave Czerwinski of Lompoc (159 — Suzuki) as Ray Marshall (73) trails. Czerwinski nosed out Wynne in the overall scoring to take second. Wynne took third and Lompoc's Scott Frisby gunned his Husky to first.

Lompoc tops in motocross action

Ten Lompoc scramblers finished in the first four slots in 11 motorcycle class races at Spillway Park in Santa Maria Sunday. The motocross event was sponsored by the Lompoc Slow Pokes Motorcycle Club.

Rated fifth in the district, Lompoc's Dave Czerwinski teamed up with his yellow Suzuki for a first place in the first moto and a second in the next in the Open Intermediate Class. But in the third and last moto a tire blew out and losing a pipe, Czerwinski finished the race on the flat to qualify but was shunted into second in the overall scoring.

More problems arose when the pipe hit Dave's brother Chuck Czerwinski who finished the heat with a dislocated shoulder.

The scoring in the Open Intermediate event was a sweep for Lompoc cyclists with Scott Frisby gunning his Husky to a first place and Harvey Wynne, also of Lompoc, bringing up third on another Suzuki.

David Gregory of Lompoc took the hardware in the 125 cc Juniors, division A, finishing on his CZ ahead of San Luis Obispo's Paul Beck and his Yamaha. Ron Beardsley placed in the 100 cc junior competition to represent Lompoc, trailing winner Rickey Langford of Santa Barbara. Lompoc's Gary Concellos crossed at fourth on his Suzuki in the same race.

King, Evert meet again

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Chris Evert, the 17-year-old hometown girl and latest marvel of the tennis world, meets her old nemesis Billie Jean King today in the finals of the $25,000 Women's International Tournament.

The tournament is part of the Virginia Slims Tour. Today's affair is the first rematch of the U.S. Open semifinal at Forest Hills, N.Y., last year when Mrs. King stopped the Fort Lauderdale high school girl's bid for tennis immortality. Mrs. King went on to defeat Rosemary Casals in the open final.

ABA: Calvin nets 37

United Press International Mack Calvin got well, and not surprisingly, so did the Floridians.

Calvin, one of the top guards in the American Basketball Association, returned to action Sunday night after missing two games with the flu and scored 37 points to pace the Floridians to a 144-117 victory over the Pittsburgh Condors.

The victory ended a six-game losing streak and enabled the Floridians to climb into fourth place in the Eastern Division. John Brisker of Pittsburgh took game scoring honors with 40 points and teammate George Thompson added 30, but it was not enough to keep the Condors from losing for the 13th time in their last 17 outings.

In other action, Kentucky defeated New York, 118-106, Dallas beat Memphis, 107-84 and Denver downed Indiana, 115-107.

Louis Dampier scored a season high 39 points and Dan Issel tallied 31 to pace Kentucky's victory over the Nets. Rick Barry got 37 points for the Nets. Donnie Freeman led a balanced attack with 23 points as Dallas trimmed BERKELEY (UPI)—Completing a staff which he calls "the best in America," new California football coach Mike White is ready for 1972 with eight assistants.

On Saturday, White announced he had hired former pro defensive back Johnnie Johnson to work with Cal's defensive backs and Les Davis, former Hayward State head football coach, to work with the offensive backfield.

Davis, 33, was head coach at New Mexico Highlands last season after serving four years at Hayward and winning two Far Western Conference football titles. Johnson, 27, has been an assistant at San Jose State the past three years.

Youth wrestling

A four way tangle for first place developed in the Lompoc Boys Club wrestling league over the weekend. Cabrillo No. 3, Lompoc's Bouslaugh and Cabrillo No. 1 took mat victories, jamming Lompoc's Zimmerman and Bouslaugh teams and Cabrillo No. 1 and No. 2 into the top slot.

Lompoc's Bouslaugh squad engineered a 26-17 upset over Zimmerman, the previous sole league leader, in the first youth wrestling weekend meet. Bouslaugh pins were turned in by Shawn Day (60), Warrin Hamlin (65) and Pat Huyck (70). Zimmerman falls went to Vince Moya (90) and Jim Jacobs (105). Mike Leary (125) and Frank Hain (85) took decisions for Bouslaugh while Rod Taylor decided his 75 pound opponent for Zimmerman.

In the day's second mat confrontation, Cabrillo's team No. 1 rode to a 27-19 triumph over Lompoc's Centeno group on pins by Kevin Beli (60), Mitch Moore (65) and heavyweight John Nieto. Decisions were scored for Cabrillo No. 1 by Stuart Radford (75), Bob Steel (85) and Mark Haley (115). Lester Huyck managed a pin for Centeno at 95 pounds while John Villables (70), Jim Greenwood (80), Mike Howard (90) and Ernie Bernudez (105) brought home Centeno decisions.

In a close battle, Cabrillo No. 3 eeked out an 18-15 win over Cabrillo No. 2 behind a pivotal concluding pin by Gerald Vasquez (105), a pin at 75 pounds by Lumberg and decisions going to Jim Renner (60), Tom Silvernail (65) and Bob Forren (80). Cabrillo No. 2 turned in a pin at 70 pounds by Chris Witzgal and one that was scored 18 seconds into the first period of the 95 pound grapple by Mat Moore. There were no Cabrillo No. 2 decisions. Cabrillo No. 2 joined Lompoc's

THINK ABOUT IT!

BY BOB LILLEY

FROM THE MAIL BAG: "If I list my home for sale through a local broker and he puts it with Multiple Listing Service — am I liable for two real estate commissions if another office sells it?"

ANSWER: Absolutely NO. The listing office must split its commission with the selling broker. The seller only pays the standard commission specified in his listing agreement. Multiple listing exposes your home to all brokers and their clients. It means your chances of selling are much better and within a shorter time — at no extra cost to you!

The new DOUBLE EAGLE POLYSTEEL TIRE

Polyester cord for smoothness/Steel belts for protection

The Double Eagle trademark has been a tradition with us ever since 1928, the year we first reserved it for Goodyear's finest tire. The first Double Eagle was simply "extravagantly good." Today's namesake honors this tradition. Four body plies of polyester cord, two additional plies of steel cord in stabilizing belts that encircle the body, a tread engineered for luxury car performance, a sidewall designed for sheer elegance. And we've put our confidence in this tire in writing — in a superb service and maintenance policy. The Double Eagle Polysteel tire by Goodyear.

TV in review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD
(UPI) — There will be double feature movies on the television networks each Monday, Thursday and Friday night starting Feb. 14.

The reason is that on the date CBS-TV will begin showing latenight movies in place of the canceled Merv Griffin series.

And these late-night motion pictures, combined with those shown earlier on the various networks, will amount to a double feature.

For example, on Monday nights, ABC-TV has a regular movie, and so does NBC-TV. And except when they are preempted for special programs, the double feature will be in effect, with CBS-TV adding the late show.

On Feb. 14, CBS-TV's premier late-night film, which begins at 11:30 p.m. EST, is "A Patch of Blue," with Sidney Poitier, Shelley Winters and Elizabeth Hartman.

As another example, CBS-TV has a Thursday night movie series in prime time. So you can double up on the same network for the double feature on Thursdays.

Sample: on Feb. 17, CBS-TV's prime time motion picture is "My Blood Runs Cold," with Troy Donahue and Joey Heatherton, and its late movie is "The Glass Bottom Boat," with Doris Day and Rod Taylor.

Friday nights, meanwhile, it is NBC-TV that has the earlier (prime time) motion picture to which CBS-TV can add its late show.

On Friday a month, however, NBC-TV substitutes its two-hour newsmagazine, "Chrono-log," for its movie. And of course there are the usual made-for-television movies thrown in here and there.

Actually, you can find motion pictures, or imitations of them, just about any night of the week on the networks, but not actual double features in the sense that one follows another after a slight break for news or whatever.

Saturdays, for instance, NBC-TV has prime time, movies, and ABC-TV has made-for-video "Movie of the Weekend" series. But there is no CBS-TV late movie on weekends—it is strictly a Monday-through-Friday affair. Of course, many local stations fill the double feature bill.

On Sundays, CBS-TV has a movie early in prime time, and ABC-TV has one later in the prime hours, but since they generally overlap it is not fair to call them a double feature.

Tuesday, ABC-TV has its made-for-television "Movie of the Week," and on Wednesday there is the "NBC Mystery Movie," which is also strictly a video production.

At any rate, come Feb. 14, network television will look even more like your friendly neighborhood movie theatre—the kind where you can catch up on what you missed at the fancier emporiums.

The next thing you know, television will be giving away free dishes, rerunning serials like "The Perils of Pauline" and using "Tom and Jerry" cartoons to fill in the time between the films.

As it is, we will actually have the equivalent of newsreels: the nightly, late-evening local news programs on network stations which will bridge the gap between the prime time motion pictures and the late-show movies on CBS-TV.

The lighter side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Under orders from the Federal Aviation Administration, all U.S. airlines have adopted passenger screening systems designed to spot would-be hijackers.

The process most widely in use is a psychological profile that alerts ground agents to certain behavioral characteristics.

Although the FAA won't discuss details, it seems to me the most foolproof system would be a psychological quiz of the type dear to the hearts of many magazine editors.

The current Cosmopolitan, for example, has a test titled "Are You a Good Lover?" Readers determine their ratings by answering such questions as:

"When you see a couple embracing passionately in public, you feel: () A. Envious. () B. A little shy. () C. Pleased to see something nice happening. () D. Amused."

Each answer is scored from 0 to 10. In the question above, envy gets the top grade and amusement gets a big fat zero. Which is ridiculous.

Nobody can possibly be a good lover with a well-developed sense of humor. And as for envy, that would depend on who was embracing whom.

If a test that unscientific can uncover good lovers, it certainly should be able to expose potential hijackers, who are far more obvious as well as more numerous.

What I have in mind is a quiz for airline passengers somewhat along these lines:

1. What is your feeling about Cuba? () A. Nice place to visit but wouldn't want to live there. () B. On the whole, would rather be in Philadelphia. () C. Cuba who? () D. Cuba, So: Yanqui, no.

2. If you wanted to go to Cuba, how would you go about getting there? () A. Would organize an expeditionary force in Honduras to invade the Bay of Pigs. () B. The same way President Nixon is getting to go to China. () C. Would board an airliner bound for Seattle. () D. Would join the CIA.

3. Do you ever carry a gun with you when you travel? () A. Feel naked without one. () B. Wouldn't touch one with a 10-foot basketball player. () C. Only when I'm out of bombs. () D. Depends on where I'm going.

4. Have you ever tried making hand grenades in your own home? () A. Don't have time for hobbies. () B. Prefer watching television. () C. Lost the recipe. () D. You mean like this one in my briefcase?

5. What is the best way to make a parachute jump? () A. Sneak up behind it and holler "boo!" () B. Order the pilot at gunpoint to fly at low altitude and jump from rear exit. () C. Pull rip cord with right hand while holding bag with ransom money under left arm. () D. Carry a stewardess along for good luck.

NEW INCENTIVE
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Berlitz language schools have come up with a new incentive to take one of their instructional courses, judging by a newspaper ad that appeared today, dominated by a headline that read: "Learn French by income tax day, in case you want to leave the country."

The ad promised that "By April 17th, when the course ends, you end up with enough French to get around."

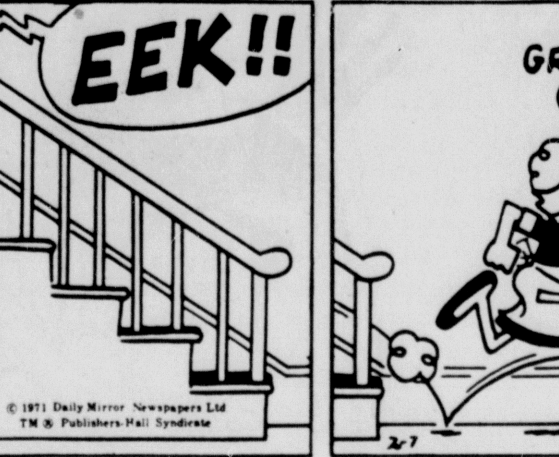

OUT OF AN old-fashioned fairy tale, Christel Mory and Rolf Rossius are all dressed up as star attractions of 20th-century Munich. They arrived by camel for their coronation as prince and princess of the 1972 carnival season in the West German city.

OPINIONS

The columns of the Lompoc Record are open to all expressions of opinion consistent with good taste and the laws.

The Record's aim is to present facts in its news columns and opinions in its editorial columns.

Boy Scouts' birthday

The anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America falls on February 8, tomorrow, and this February the Scouting organization will be 62 years young. The nation has a good reason to cherish its Boy Scouts as never before. As they pursue their anniversary observation, adults will be reminded that such things as self-reliance and good citizenship remain very much in vogue where it counts most — amidst a major segment of the youth into whose hands the reins of community leadership and business will fall a few years hence.

One of the most important aspects of Scouting is an appreciation of the outdoors and of learning to live with the most rudimentary tools of survival. Under the patient guidance of volunteer Scout leaders, young boys from every walk of life come to the amphitheater of nature where all are equal — the Boy Scout camp. They return a little wiser, a little more humble and with a little more understanding of the great land in which they are privileged to live. The entire nation benefits from the Scouting experience, thus the entire nation should extend best wishes to the Scouts on their 62nd anniversary.

Washington calling by Marquis Childs

Big tax struggle

WASHINGTON — One of those classic contests between Congress and the executive that come up as regularly as fight nights at Madison Square Garden is on the bill again. The contenders are all too familiar — the national debt with a jump of $50 billion versus a reform of the federal tax system.

This time the positions are reversed. In earlier rounds the left of center in House and Senate has invariably voted for raising the debt level. Conservatives on the right have fought, bled and died to hold down the debt as a symbol of fiscal responsibility.

Today, led by Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin, the liberals have served notice that the President must come up by April 15 with a tax reform program closing loopholes before they will vote to boost the debt limit.

They demand a program for reforms in the federal income, estate and gift tax laws.

Last year a jump in the national debt of $35 billion was passed by 66 votes.

A lot of that margin came from the same liberals issuing the ultimatum to the White House. Whether enough conservatives can be brought around to vote for the $50 billion jump, thereby checkmating the reforms conservatives consistently opposed, is a burning question.

Better than probably anyone else in Congress, Reuss knows the complexities of taxes and debt. He is convinced that the President's economic advisors are groping in the dark for a way out of the recession-inflation maze. They seem bemused by the fact that the national rate of savings should be eight per cent instead of their goal of six per cent.

The obvious answer is that the one-fifth at the top of the economic heap gets an increasing share of the national income. If you have one big expensive car you don't need another so the money goes into savings.

The figures on income distribution are startling. The top one-fifth gets 45.8 per cent of the national income; the top one per cent 6.8 per cent. The bottom one-fifth gets 3.2 per cent. And this lopsided difference has been steadily growing as successive congresses have passed out tax relief to the higher brackets.

Reuss and his co-conspirators are trying to make it easy for the administration. They are saying that all you have to do is send up the tax reform program the treasury department drew up some years ago. This would yield an additional $20 billion to $30 billion a year by closing the loopholes.

Lyndon Johnson weaseled on that program as he blessed cuts for taxpayers in the middle and upper brackets.

Last year, as Reuss notes, Congress gave business an $8 billion cut and individuals $1 billion. That was on the trickle-down theory whereby business with tax-investment credits would create more jobs and reduce unemployment.

The growing burden of taxation, particularly the property tax, is producing a revolt that draws from presidential candidates all sorts of plans for relief. The White House is working up a value-added tax, which is a federal sales tax. It has the great advantage of being invisible. And while passing on more of the federal burden to middle-and-lower-income taxpayers it confirms the upper one-fifth in their privileged position.

Whether the present congress would pass a value added tax — whether the White House will send it up this campaign year — no one can say. Whether any tax reform will come is highly doubtful.

Treasury lobbyists are already working to persuade Republicans who voted no against last year's jump in the debt to support the President. They have even approached some liberals on the Democratic side. The Reuss rebels are willing to grant a niggling $5 billion as a tide-over if the administration stands firm for the big jump and holds out against reform. They call for a program "comprehensive in scope and meaningful in amount." Those words were a warning token changes.

In the swampy inertia of the House Ways and Means Committee and the calculated lethargy of finance on the senate side, tax reforms have been sunk without trace. That can happen again.

The Chinook

We know what we call our spring winds in Lompoc — just plain old Lompoc wind. But in Colorado, they have another name for their wind — the "Chinook."

Our wire service recently had a story on weather and stated that a "fierce Chinook wind" whipped up a blizzard in Colorado.

This certainly was in error for the Chinook does just the opposite.

The National Weather Service in Washington in response to UPI query, described the Chinook wind:

"The Chinook by definition is a warm, dry wind descending the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains. It is so called because it blew from the direction of Chinook Indian camps."

"The Chinook can, indeed, be fierce. Normally strong and gusty, it has been clocked at over 100 miles per hour. Chinooks hitting Bolder, Colorado, for example have knocked out windows at the National Center for Atmospheric Research."

"Anyone in a sheltered valley might think of them as gentle but actually they are not. They occur whenever a warm air mass from the Southwest (usually) displaces a cold air mass hanging over the mountains. As they tumble down the slopes, Chinook winds get hotter as the air compresses during their slide down the lee side of the mountains."

"Results can be fantastic. Temperatures may rise 20 to 40 degrees in 15 minutes. At Havre, Montana once, the temperature jumped from 11 degrees to 42 degrees in three minutes. After the first rise, temperatures may fluctuate violently, though usually slowly."

"According to folklore, the Chinook can affect humans physically, sometimes causing a disposition to suicide. They make you feel nervous, sometimes depressed, possibly because they seem at times to be so unnatural."

After that description, we'll take our old Lompoc wind any time.

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING

Editors around the country are sure getting a lot of pressure in the debate over the use of Ms instead of the traditional Miss and Mrs. Many say, why not give it a chance for public reaction. We're still thinking about it... Little known fact: California bees produced 19,647,000 pounds of honey in 1971 compared to 15,652,000 pounds the previous year. Just thought you would like to know... Our phone rang off the hook last week. Calls were from young fellows wanting to know their draft number. Could hardly wait... Pat Buttram says that Disneyland is so clean they make the birds fly upside down... Yikes, our boy wants to take Judo lessons... We're all ready for another try at a vegetable garden this year but despite what the experts tell us, we think our rhubarb plant has gone to the great beyond...

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:
The recent adoption of amendments to the county zoning ordinances regarding Family and Special Care Homes for dependent adults in the county, culminates over a year of hard work by many people who deserve a heartfelt "well done" for their efforts. Most especially we wish to extend our recognition publicly to Mr. Kenneth Kruger and his Citizen's Zoning Committee who devoted many hours of volunteer time. The members of the County Board of Supervisors also deserve our congratulations for their statesmanlike consideration and eventual support of a complex humanitarian issue.

As the designated planning body for mental retardation programs in the county, we are, of course, primarily concerned with the welfare of the retarded. The changes brought about by this new county legislation are an important step toward the goal of enabling all mentally retarded adults who have the potential to live in a community residential environment more closely approximating the norm enjoyed by all citizens. We anticipate that communities throughout the county can only be enriched by the future assimilation and productive utilization of the retarded in their midst.

The efforts of all who supported the new Family and Special Care Home ordinances are deeply appreciated by all the groups represented in our Council, including parents associations for retarded and broad range of public and private professional agencies and services.

Yours very sincerely,
Irwin Wapner, Ed. D., Chairman
Santa Barbara County Coordinating Council for Mental Retardation

The garbage bill

Few people install combination locks on their garbage cans, but here are some figures that make you wonder. Watch carefully.

A conservative estimate of total National garbage output is five pounds per person per day. The National Wildlife Federation's Environmental Quality Index estimate is five; the League of California Cities says it's a little more. The figure includes children but also takes in such things as old refrigerators and cleared brush left at dumps.

In everyone's yearly ton of trash there is, proportionally, 3.5 pounds of non ferrous metals (chrome, copper, tin, etc.), 49 pounds of fiber (paper), 5.5 pounds of aluminum, 144 pounds of iron and steel, 131 pounds of glass and 1,500 odd pounds of organic wastes. These are averages.

Computing the yearly quantities for Lompoc is simply a matter of multiplying the above totals by 25,000, a low estimate of our population. The city's non-organic contribution to the land fill project, then, comes to 43.7 tons of non ferrous metals, 612 tons of fiber, 69 tons of aluminum, 1,800 tons of iron and steel and 1,600 tons of glass.

Now, there are markets for these things. Non ferrous metals go for $15 a ton, scrap aluminum at $200 per ton and scrap iron and steel also for $15 a ton. A ton of old glass sells for $20 and, though prices for fiber have dropped lately, tons of it have been moved in California at $13 apiece. See what's coming?

The dollar value of the non ferrous metals dumped yearly into our land fill project is $650. The annual amount of fiber, at the high market figure is worth $8,000. A round $13,000 in scrap aluminum is interred annually, mixed with $27,000 in scrap iron and steel. The annual wasted glass tab comes to a full $32,000.

Friends, that's an $81,400 pile of "garbage" ever year.

And we pay people to haul it away. Now think of Santa Barbara... Los Angeles... California...

The used paper market has folded lately. Paper recycling plants are planned for Los Angeles and it will return, but subtract the $8,000 in fiber anyway, just for now. That leaves $73,400.

Armed guards aren't required at the land fill site because getting at the buried value there would be too costly. But how about heading off this year's heap?

In the last half year the Recycling Committee and the Ecology Center caught and sold 12 tons of the 800 tons of glass discarded ever six months and one quarter ton of the 34.5 tons of aluminum that were thrown out in that period. Much of this was turned in by volunteers.

The need for a city wide recycling program is obvious.

The recycling Committee is approaching this idea, a complicated one in terms of legislation and finance. You can help by saving and recycling your own glass, metal, paper and organic wastes and by completing and returning the environmental questionnaire mailed to all Lompoc residents with last month's utility bills.

The above calculations were worked out by Don Hinderliter, Chairman of the Recycling committee and an engineer.
